

Information about Postponement of CONET2009

Japan Construction Mechanization Association, JCMA has decided to postpone holding CONET2009. The reason for postponing the exhibition is due to the current economic situation, leading to low exhibit motivation.

We haven't decided on a reschedule date at this time. We will release the information as soon as we have settled upon further details.

We ask for your understanding in this matter, and we hope you will remain interested in the future of CONET.
